What professionals are saying about Collagen M.D.®

May 2015: "I am a woman in the natural and mainstream health and beauty industry, so I have access to the newest and best products. I also use BOTOX. Collagen MD has changed my life. For one, I do not need to have BOTOX injections. I am regularly complimented ...and asked out... by 42 year old men even though I am 64. Since using CMD I look...and carry myself... as a much younger woman. In essence, I have added years to my life in so, so many ways. I also no longer have knee pain and my hands are no longer stiff! I am so happy with this product. It is one of the best anti-aging, age reversal products available today!"

What are Nutricosmetic Dietary Supplements?

- Nutricosmetics are ingestible dietary supplements that support skin, hair and nail health
- Scientific credibility should accompany nutricosmetic dietary supplement formulations
- Nutricosmetics are an increasingly important component of any professional skin care program as men and women recognize that improvement to skin health has to start from the inside

Nutricosmetic clients are traditionally in the 40+ age group but increasingly the 25-35+ age demographic is purchasing because of health concerns and desire to reduce exposure to the chemical ingredients found in many topical skin care products.

Mature skin is physiologically different from young skin and needs specialized treatment and nutritional support

Aging causes changes at every level of the skin. The epidermis, the skin's outer layer, does not recover from injury as rapidly. The outermost layer of the epidermis loses lipids (fat-like substances), making the skin drier.

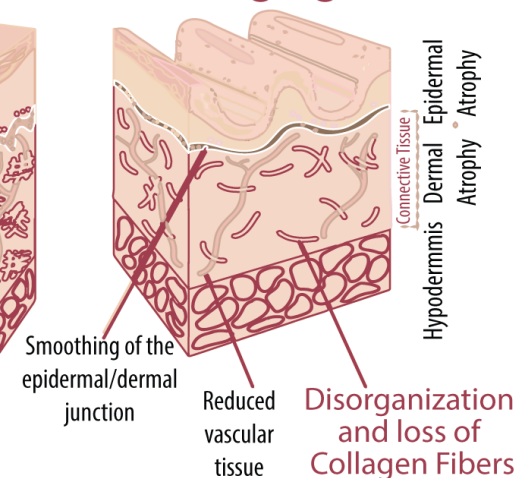

The dermis, the skin's inner layer, loses collagen and elastic tissues that keep the skin plump and protect against injury. Facial bones also shrink and reduced bone volume means there's less support for the skin a contributing factor to the appearance of loose and sagging skin.

Aging Skin

Collagen and hyaluronic acid production declines in aging skin, a contributing factor to fine lines, dry skin, thinning hair and dermal and epidermal atrophy on the face and body.*

Each day the body goes through a natural cycle of collagen breakdown and regeneration but after the age of twenty-five collagen renewal and cell turnover gradually declines, a contributing factor to the appearance of fine lines and loss of suppleness in aging skin.

Collagen is a protein found in practically every tissue of the body. As one of the major constituents of the extracellular matrix, collagen is an important component of skin, cartilage, bone, tendons, blood vessels and other connective tissues.

Collagen M.D.[®] dietary supplements work with the natural mechanisms of the body to support connective tissue health.*

Collagen Type I & III is a natural source of 19 amino acids including lysine, glycine, proline and hydroxyproline, key amino acids that support youth-enhancing collagen synthesis and support connective tissue health.*

Collagen In The Body

- Type I Collagen... Skin, bones, tendons, ligaments, cornea of eye
- Type II Collagen... Hyaline/articular cartilage, inter-vertebral discs and vitreous humor of eye
- Type III Collagen... Skin, intestines, tendons, blood vessels, and uterine wall

Collagen production may be negatively affected by nutritional deficiency from anorexia, celiac disease, age-related intestinal malabsorption, metabolic disease, UV radiation from too much time in the sun and the pathological effects of menopause

Collagen Molecule

The dominant fibre type in most connective tissue is collagen fibers with a primary function of adding strength to connective tissues. Most collagen fibres have the ability to stretch by up to 20% and are extremely strong.

Hyaluronic Acid is the major glycosaminoglycan found in connective tissues and acts as the backbone for the assembly of other glycosaminoglycans. Hyaluronic Acid is found throughout the body but in high quantities in the skin, synovial fluid, which fills joint cavities, the vitreous body of the eye and neural tissues.

Fibroblasts are the most common cell type found in connective tissues and excrete collagen protein. The synthesis of new collagen fibres supports the repair of connective tissues.

Drink Your Way To Healthy Skin With Collagen Supplementation!

Publication: www.glamologie.com

Published Date: July, 2015

Details:

A bit of bad news, after age 25, collagen levels in the body start to decline at a rate of 1 to 1.5% a year. The good news is you can help keep your skin plump and increase your collagen and even hyaluronic acid levels with the right supplements. I've been hearing the buzz about these types of supplements for a while. Collagen supplementation is extremely popular and mainstream in Asian countries – where they're serious about their beauty regimens and skincare. We all witnessed and indulged in the BB/CC cream frenzy that started in Asia and this will be huge here as well.

I'm a business consultant for a skincare/medical spa distributor and this is a brand I represent to my medical accounts. I had advanced training on the formulations and technology of this company, which was founded by a scientist and formulated with a doctor. Since I saw so many success stories, I had to try this for myself. I started taking the supplement about a month ago and I'm excited to see the changes to my hair, skin, nails and even a nagging injury to my ankle I got on a hiking trail a couple of months ago. Collagen supplementation is also very good for the connective tissue in the body since it's comprised of collagen. It's important to note, these types of supplements don't deliver instant results – so I'm being patient (and consistent!) and just know from the clinical studies and the glowing reviews of those around me that this works. It makes sense to me as an Esthetician and Nutritionist since everything we ingest - good or bad - effects our skin's integrity and health. The right internal supplements can be just as important as your topical treatments, and will definitely be a welcome addition to a comprehensive approach to taking care of your skin.

The product I'm using is called Advanced Connective Tissue Formula, by Collagen MD. What I really like about this is that it's a pharmaceutical grade hydrolyzed collagen type I and III. It's also sugar free, doesn't have a taste, and it's free of sugar, soy, dairy, preservatives and gluten. Some high-end spas are using this formula to make their own signature elixir for their clients to indulge in on their visits. I have been mixing up a drink in the morning with coconut water, and any type of fresh organic berries I have on hand. When I'm in a big hurry I just add a couple scoops of the powder to my water bottle – shake it up and drink it right away. It's also a great way to boost your water intake as well. What's important to note is that you don't want to take the supplement with a protein since it has to be the sole source of protein at the time you ingest it for it to assimilate properly.

For the first two weeks I would only put 1 scoop in my drink and after a couple of weeks I increased it to the recommended 2 scoops. There is a very small percentage of the population (4%) that are sensitive to taking collagen supplements so it's very unlikely you would have any issues especially since Collagen MD is free of extra ingredients you don't need.

This supplement also contains Vitamin C, which is needed by the body to produce collagen. It also contains one of my favorite skincare ingredients which is also naturally occurring in our skin, Hyaluronic Acid, also known as, "Nature's Moisturizer". Hyaluronic acid is a glycosaminoglycan that gives our skin a supple, hydrated appearance, and provides the body with lubrication. It also contains folic acid, biotin and B12 – necessary for skin health and collagen synthesis. What's also important to me to note, is that this is a very "clean" supplement. I always read labels and make sure the supplements I'm taking don't contain fillers, sugar and preservatives. Collagen MD is manufactured in the U.S. and has quality ingredients without any cheap filler ingredients you don't want.

Catherine Miller - Founder of Passionate Living - Former publisher of Holistic Health Journal

UPDATED SEPTEMBER 2013 - I've been taking Collagen MD Advanced Connective Tissue Formula for a year now and I can hardly believe the results. As former publisher of Holistic Health Journal, I tried a plethora of skin care products to maintain the youthfulness of my skin and though some were good, none of them actually seemed to restore the vitality. Within a month of taking the Advanced Connective Tissue Formula in my morning smoothie, friends began commenting on how youthful my skin looked. I noticed that the elasticity that I had been losing was actually being restored. After about 4-5 months on Advanced Connective Tissue Formula, another amazing breakthrough occurred. Chronic pain that I had been feeling for years was being alleviated. I am now almost completely pain free and my skin looks better than ever! I have recommended this product to family and friends and they have had the same extraordinary results. Thank you Collagen MD for developing such a powerful, high quality product!

2012 - "Needless to say, through my decades of publishing cutting edge editorial in relation to holistic health and integrative medicine, a plethora of products have come my way. Each time I try something new, I am an open-minded skeptic about the potential outcome, as many therapies and supplements boast of their astounding results, but often come up short of their promises. Collagen MD is one of the most amazing products that I've ever experienced, hands down! A colleague of mine gave me a sample to try for 30 days, as he was so convinced that I would be impressed with the results. I have been taking the Collagen MD Advanced Connective Tissue Formula and the Collagen II Joint Formula. I was surprised that not only did my skin look more youthful, but my whole body felt better, with an increase in overall energy. As well, I've noticed that my memory and cognitive skills have improved a bit already. I'm now a total fan of Collagen MD and can't wait to see what happens over the next few months of continued use. It's so inspiring to come across a supplement that is so powerfully effective ... and in such a short period of time. I will recommend this product to EVERYONE!"

Press Review

Alisa Fleming, Best Selling Author, Go Dairy Free - The Guide and Cookbook; Founder, www.godairyfree.org; Senior Editor - Allergic Living Magazine

Honestly, the concerns of aging hadn't really hit me, but when a friend in the natural food industry brought Collagen MD to my attention, I took it as a sign to start paying attention. I do exercise regularly to keep my muscles, bones, and tendons strong and my skin healthy, but a little insurance never hurts. Plus, I'm past 35, and know that my body is now breaking down more rapidly than in the younger years, and I don't want to go down without a fight!

Collagen MD gluten-free and dairy-free Advanced Connective Tissue Formula is a powder supplement that is formulated with an "anti-aging" blend of highly-bioavailable collagen type I & III peptides, hyaluronic acid, vitamin C, folic acid, biotin and vitamin B12. They recommend mixing it with juice or water (you aren't supposed to take it with any type of protein), but all-fruit smoothies or ones with coconut milk beverage or coconut milk yogurt are also delicious ways to enjoy it! I always use frozen fruit for a very creamy delight. See my Healthy Skin Smoothies post for some fun recipe blends.

Does it work? I've trialed this product for several months with great success! I've noticed strengthening in my nails and hair follicles (my hair falls out more easily with the hard water we have here, but it has slowed quite a bit), and a minor nagging tendon injury magically healed.

Collagen M.D. Advanced Connective Tissue Formula

We trial HUNDREDS of products every year. These are what we consider to be the Best of the Best for dairy-free living!and in a refreshing 'healthy skin' smoothie blend using the probiotic coconut water, frozen banana and Collagen MD (dairy-free / gluten-free)...

Frankie Boyer, Host --- The Frankie Boyer Show -- www.frankieboyer.com

Updated July 2013-----I have been taking Advanced Connective Tissue Formula for about 11 months now and I just am so blown away by this amazing product. My skin is firmer all over my body including my breasts. The fine lines around my mouth, which a few months ago were deep lines, are so faint now you can hardly see them. The overall tone and texture of my skin has improved and my arms are not sagging as much and they seem to firm up faster when exercising. I have noticed my ugly cellulite is much better too. I just had a check-up and my HDL levels and bones have improved. An unexpected result was that I have less gray hair on my eyelashes, yes that is right – I was getting very gray and now just one stray. I went for a massage recently and was told I had amazing skin and tone of a woman my age. Overall there has been an improvement in my metabolism. I seem to be enjoying better overall health and during the past 6 months, I haven't had a cold or sore throat even though I'm frequently on airplanes and travel constantly – I'm even sleeping better now. A very grateful, Frankie Updated December 19, 2012---I cannot believe the difference in my skin - I am now another 1 1/2 containers into the product and it just is getting better and better each day. I have also noticed that my cellulite looks so much better but the fine lines around my mouth, which were the first signs of noticing how much I missed the product, are now slowly getting less visible. I went to the local spa to have a few age spots removed and the woman commented on how much collagen I have in my skin. I am so grateful to you and this product - you really have discovered the fountain of over all healthy aging!!!!

October 2012--- I had been taking Advanced Connective Tissue Formula for 4 months and I thought –ok, this seems to be softening the lines around my mouth, and it seems to be making my skin look better. I ran out of the product and kept forgetting to order more. A month to 5 weeks later I looked in the mirror and began to notice how OLD I was looking and it was then that I realized what was I not doing - BINGO - I had stopped taking Collagen MD's Advanced Connective Tissue Formula. I could not believe the difference in the texture of my skin, the lines and wrinkles were no longer soft but more defined. I was shocked to see how quickly my face was changing and how old I looked, the glow was gone. I have now been taking my Advanced Connective Tissue Formula again for over 12 days and I noticed how quickly my skin responded. I am happy to report that the lines and texture have changed and my glow is back. I really can't believe how quickly my skin is responding, it is really like a before and after! I also would like to mention that I've noticed my overall energy has improved and my sleep patterns are once again, much better. I called Collagen MD up to share my personal experience and I said I can never be without this product. I never would have believed this if I didn't see it for myself but I am a believer!!! Collagen MD's Advanced Connective Tissue Formula works!!! Thank you Collagen MD!!!!
